Colour Codes	Workshop Series	Synopses
	INTRODUCTION TO WATERCOLOURS	This series of workshops will encourage you to experiment with a variety watercolour techniques as well as give you an understanding of the materials you can use. Each workshop builds upon techniques learnt in previous workshops, with the final class (to be decided by you, of course) being a culmination and exploration of what you have learnt so far. Signing up for several sessions is encouraged, but not necessary. Each student will get to progress accordingly with more sessions attended. From information about materials to guidance on how to approach an image from drawing to a finished piece, this will be a valuable experience for any level of painter.
	INTRODUCTION TO WORKING WITH ACRYLIC PAINTS	In this progressive series of workshops, students will get to learn about the dynamism and versatility of acrylic paints, and their varied applications. Whether you a novice or experienced painter, these workshops will serve to both educate and nurture, all in a relaxed setting, using still-life objects as the focus of study. Topics covered will be different with each session, including developing basic drawing techniques and observational skills, and having fun in the process! To acquire more skill-sets, attending more classes in this series is encouraged, but not necessary.
	DYNAMIC DRAWING SERIES	This series of drawing workshops is designed to be accessible to everyone – from a beginner to an experienced artist. Using everyday still-life objects, we intend to help students build upon their observational skills, working on ideas that cover materials, proportion, space and scale, and tonal values.
	INTRODUCTORY PORTRAITURE: FROM SKETCH TO ACRYLICS	Come explore, challenge and enjoy creative and stimulating sessions in a friendly atmosphere. These workshops will focus on sketching and painting the figure and portrait, progressively, through more sessions attended. During class, you will be encouraged to challenge yourself, working outside of your comfort zone, to give you the confidence to develop your own style through self-exploration.
	CHARCOAL DRAWING EXPLORATORY WORKSHOP	In this series of progressive workshops, students will get to explore one of the oldest drawing mediums around. From materials, tools, and marks one can make as an artist, students will work towards creating a finished tonal drawing. Attending several sessions are encouraged, but not necessary.
